Description
Hi, I need way to add two users email id for one user in redmine. I searched in forum, could not find any solution for it. Also i need way to view uploaded file should be in reverse chronological order, right now i can view files in random orders, which makes us to track the upload files on redmine.

I don't want redmine to receive mail from server.

If a user raises new ticket, redmine sends mail to his ID via send mail, i need same mail to send for 2 id everytime, whenever user creates ticket.

Can you not add two users, each with a different email, and add them to the same group - so that the email will go to all the users of that group, being both his users / email addresses?

PS How is this query urgent to the greater community?
