Description
Please enable JSONP
This is necessary when a JS-Client wants to call the Redmine API of another Subdomain, Server, Protocol, Port... (Same Origin Policy)
It's not that hard to accomplish. You just need to set a request filter that wraps the response in a given JS function. See #10761 for an example of the expected output.

- Resolution set to Fixed

Support for JSONP added in r10088. You can use the callback or jsonp parameter to specify the JSONP callback.

Exemple:

```
GET /issues.json?callback=foo
```

```
=> foo({"issues":...})
```
