Description

This will be helpful in this case

1. Create project
2. Create new issue
3. Write all issue description, data ... ect ect

You forget to add users to the project, so open a new tab and add members to the project then close the tab in the issue page, in the user select, you have only yourself. so A refresh fields will be helpful in this case

Workaround:

- Remove the subject and submit, redmine will refresh the page giving an error about missing subject. and All frieds are updated
