Description
When using textile, all end of lines are translated as <code>&lt;br /&gt;</code>, which is an odd behavior for a wiki. Changing this to make RedCloth use <code>hard_breaks = false</code> could be a little hardcore because a lot people can be relaying on that behavior now. So I think it would be nice if an option is added (like <code>textile_hard_breaks</code>) to the settings to be able to change this behavior. I tried to make the patch myself but since I'm not familiar with Ruby and RoR, it's a little hard, but I have experience in Python and other web frameworks, so with some pointers maybe I can do the job =)
