Description
Let's say we have three Projects: Project A with TrackerA with Custom Fields F1 and F2 Project B with TrackerB with Custom Field F1 and F2 Project C with TrackerC with Custom Field F3 ...and a ticket created in Project A (with F1 and F2 filled) If we now &gt;Edit&lt; this ticket to move it to another Project and play with the project dropdown to trigger the ajax form update: (in this order:) <ol style="list-style-type: none"><li>1. Select Project C: No custom fields are shown (expected: display of F3 with no value)</li><li>2. Select Project A: Default fields are shown but no custom fields! (expected: original display with F1 and F2 and their original values)</li><li>3. Select Project B: All correct again !?, F1 and F2 are displayed with their original values</li><li>4. Select Project A again: All correct</li></ol> This is reproducible at every time. I think there is some issue with the ajax form update, when try to choose between projects with different trackers and custom fields?

History

- Status changed from New to Needs feedback

- Resolution set to Cant reproduce

This scenario works for me. Does project C have the same trackers than project A and B?

Yes, all projects have different trackers (which shares some custom fields and some not)

I have attached screenshots to show the issue. The first form is only to show the expected output, when changing the project in the second form from B to A. (just selected another project without any saving!)
