Description
Currently redmine allows to limit the amount of notification mails to be set in certain ways. I suggest to add several other options (checkboxes) for the subcategory 'ticket'. Current there are three options to choose (status change, priority change, ..) plus the general update of a ticket. I strongly suggest to extend those options to all default ticket options. This would include <ul style="list-style-type: none">- change of assignee- change of category- change of percentage done- change of closing date Please consider this an option as there are many scenarios where too many mails are being sent.
