Hi,

Sorry for delay.

After a new attempt to migrate redmine 2.1.2.devel to redmine 3.2 i have the same problem.

After migration a reporter can't anymore update status for an issue. It can only update passed time, add comment and activity.

Before migration same user can update status, assigned to, passed time, add comment and activity.

Why do you use "3.2.0.devel"?

#5 - 2016-01-20 09:02 - Emmanuel BOUGEROLLE

It's an mistake. But I think i've found the problem.

I havent completely read all changelings since 2.1.2.

The edit issue properties was not set in permissions.

In 3.2 version it seems that this permission needs to be set for update status and adapt with field permission.

I have to deepen this question to adapt all the settings
