| Description | | | |
| I control which users are part of my projects, but I'm having problems with locked users. They disappear from the list and I can't manage them as long as they're locked. If at anytime they become unlocked by the administrator, they would unexpectedly show up in my project with roles I gave them months ago. This is annoying. I don't care if the users disappear from the workflow or from the page project, but if they are locked for some reason in Redmine, I should still be able to change their roles in my project, or kick them out if I needed to. | | | |

- Category set to Project settings

#3 - 2016-12-25 13:56 - Go MAEDA

- Subject changed from Blocked users disappear from project settings to Locked users disappear from project settings

- Description updated

#4 - 2016-12-25 14:21 - Go MAEDA

- File setting-member.png added

- Target version set to 3.2.5

- Affected version set to 3.1.0

I think this is a regression caused by r14332.

On Redmine 3.0.x and before, we could see locked user on Settings > Members tab like the following.

- Status changed from New to Resolved

- Assignee set to Jean-Philippe Lang

- Resolution set to Fixed

Fixed with tests in r16116. The memberships API is also updated to return locked members.

Thanks for pointing this out.

Just updated from 3.3.1 to 3.3.2 — can't see locked users in Settings > Members tab in both versions.

Can't see in Overview, not in Settings.
