Description

Under certain circumstances the username shown in the mobile menu can break into another line overlapping the next menu item. For example if the username is too long and contains a '-':

I am attaching a patch which fixes this behaviour by avoiding line breaks and by adding text-overflow: ellipsis

The fix works fine for me. Setting target version to 3.2.1.

Sorry for hijacking this issue, but my problem is related.

If the user name is really short, e.g. a single letter, the menu entry does not cover the whole width, in contrast to the other menu entries. This makes touching the link needlessly complicated.

The second attached patch expands the user name link to cover the whole line.

#3 - 2016-03-12 11:21 - Jean-Philippe Lang

- Status changed from New to Closed

- Assignee set to Jean-Philippe Lang

Both patches are merged in 3.2, thanks.
