I updated RedmineTextFormattingTextile and RedmineTextFormattingMarkdown. (#16373-27)

Please double check if I did not break anything.

The attached are help HTML files generated from the wiki pages above. Use them as help file, source:trunk/public/help/en/wiki\_syntax\_detailed\_textile.html and source:trunk/public/help/en/wiki\_syntax\_detailed\_markdown.html.

I've checked them and both seem to be OK. Thanks for the update.

'dumb blob',

Thank you for your checking.

Maruyama-san,

If you see no problem, please commit HTML files on note 1.

BTW I made some additional minor fixes on RedmineTextFormattingMarkdown.

- use `` and `` instead of `<notextile>`
- remove unnecessary line-breaks

The attached is the patch for the HTML file.

hey.. the markdown and textile help are confused.. it said ;

```
!{{include(Foo)}}

but must be

```
{{include(Foo)}}
