Description

When mail is notified, default sender is got from global settings.
But more useful notification, I made sender as event initiator such as issue editor, message poster and so on.

Now Alice add an issue note, mail notification is sent from "Alice" not remine@ yourdomain.com.

Implementing this feature may break one of the most terrific features - RedmineReceivingEmails.

The only way to implement it is to put in Reply-to mail header redmine's e-mails, while From will be Alice's.
Anyway, I personally prefer the current behavior.
