History

#1 - 2017-02-14 10:38 - Go MAEDA

- Category set to UI - Responsive

I confirmed the problem with Chrome 56.0.2924.87 (Mac).
No problem with Firefox or Safari.

#2 - 2017-02-14 10:48 - Vasili Korol

Indeed. I only see this in Chrome (56.0.2924.87), but not in Firefox (51.0.1). Both in Linux.
Safari 10 does not show the issue either (in iOS)

#3 - 2017-02-15 11:30 - Mischa The Evil

- Status changed from New to Confirmed

Based on these comments this issue is confirmed, setting status as such.

#4 - 2017-05-30 10:57 - Felix Gliesche

- File 0001-Fix-unintended-word-wrap-for-edit-link.patch added

The problem is the attribute:

word-wrap: break-word;

of the .box that wraps this form. This leads to a line break for the specified element.

I am attaching a patch that resets the word-wrap for this element for the mobile resolution.

#5 - 2017-05-30 11:09 - Vasili Korol

Applying the styles from the patch above fixes the problem in Redmine 3.2.4 in Chrome 58.0.3029.110.

#6 - 2017-05-30 11:23 - Go MAEDA

- Target version set to 3.3.4

Thank you for posting the patch. The problem was fixed.

Setting target version to 3.3.4 (merging the patch to 3.2-stable branch requires manual merge).
