Description

E.g., when one writes a comment, in the activity view the line with the description (which is in  tags) should be rendered somehow and not just shown as plain text.

It doesn't need to be or it sould not be textile/markdown rendering, since I wouldn't expect headings or clickable links. Just strip off any formatting, show only the text of links, remove images, ... I don't know what else has to be done.
