Description In our latest project we have put the entire delivery files (all subproject in a bigger project) into a document section named "Final delivery". Now when I would like to send this to client it would be very convinient if I could click "download as .zip" or "download as .rar" or similar.

Please be more explicit. I do not understand what you're asking for.

Yes, the naming convention for certain things are quite confusing in Redmine.

There is a module called "Documents". This module contains a set of "Documents" which contain a set of files (or documents if you wish...).

Document module: <http://www.aaa.com/projects/xxx/documents>

Document repository: <http://www.aaa.com/projects/xxx/documents/1/>

What I want is to be able to download a repository so for example <http://www.aaa.com/projects/xxx/documents/1/zip/> creates a zip file of all files/documents inside the document 1.

Understandable?

Thanks / Jens
