Description
100_progress_rate.png Steps to reproduce: <ul style="list-style-type: none">- Create one Issue.- Create 200 child issues for that issue.- Among 200 child issues, change the status of 199 issues to "closed" and change the status of 1 issue to "new".- When checking the progress rate, it is displayed as 100%. Since all the issues are not closed, I think that the progress rate should be displayed as 99%.

- Target version set to 4.1.0

It is really misleading to show "100%" for a parent task which has undone issues. Setting target version to 4.1.0.

I slightly modified the patch, renamed the test case.
