Revision 2571 - 2009-03-10 22:11 - Jean-Philippe Lang

SortHelper refactoring:

- multiple columns sort feature (#2871)
- CSS classes instead of an image tag to reflect the state of the column
- examples fixed (#2945)

Great work! I mirror feature request. I think it would be good if the user could see the current sorting sorting, like in JIRA (except on the right sidebar, instead of the left). E.g.:

Sorted by: Status descending, then Reporter ascending, then Assignee ascending
