| HTML5 has support for new markup tags, like &lt;nav&gt;, &lt;header&gt;, &lt;section&gt;, &lt;article&gt;, &lt;footer&gt; By renaming containers with these tags instead, we could get rid of redundant class and ID definitions for styling, since you will be able to just call them by markup tag. |        |                          |           |
