Description
The Ajax repository browser is nice and easy to use :) I think all agree. I think, it would be even easier, adding following feature: - on folder expand, lookup if there is only one folder -- if so, repeat the expand until more than one element is found or end of structure reached. This is useful when expanding java packages, like: org.company.application.module.functionality e tc usually containing only one folder. Having auto-expand in place -- would save "clicks" and time. Thanks for a great tool!
