Description

I would like to include infrequently used link such as Delete and Copy in Actions Dropdown.
This is a patch that is based on the current features of the wiki.
  screenshot_2021-02-12_15.41.37.png

The reason for making this issue:

- There are many icons on the view, so I would like to make it a little simpler.
- I am trying to increase the number of "copy links" links in #34703. Then there will be more icons than now.
- Journal action links only show icons, but there are some features that are difficult to understand with just the icons.

Concern:
The same icon is used for the context menu of related issues on the page, and it may be misunderstood that the link added this time also opens the context menu.

I think it is better to put "Edit" in the menu instead of "Quote"

- In my opinion, "Quote" is a more frequently used feature than "Edit"
- "Edit" is displayed only for users who have appropriate permission. If the current user does not have permission, no button is displayed there

Thank you for your feedback.
I agree with your opinion and modified the patch as shown in the image below.

I use quite a lot the "Edit" link, mostly to edit my own comments (eg: fix typos). I think we should hide under the dropdown only the "Delete" link.

It seems that both "Quote" and "Edit" are used frequently, so I made a patch that puts only Delete in the dropdown.
It may seem that you don't need to change to the dropdown as there are only "Delete" dropdown items, but once this patch is committed, you want to put the "CopyLink" under development in #34703 into the dropdown. think.

The patch looks good to me with one exception, there are 3 Rubocop offences that should be fixed.

I'm assigning this to 4.2.0, it's an useful change.

A system test fails:

 no matches. Also found "", "", which matched the selector but not all filters.

The test will work by adding the following line.

This is a feature that has already been committed, but I thought it would be better if the issue copy link wasn't in the dropdown.
If you move the copy link out of the dropdown, the content of the dropdown will match between the journal and the issue for a unified look.

I don't think that it is valid reason to move this action outside of the dropdown. Dropdown should contain less frequently used items, it should be the last thing that you want to keep unified across different views.

After applying r20765 to my company's production server, team members started to complain that accessing the "Copy" button requires one more click is very inconvenient because they use the feature frequently.

Committed the fix #34714#note-14 in r20842.

Before (pre r20765):

[Edit] [Log time] [Watch] [Copy] [Delete]

After (r20805):

[Edit] [Log time] [Watch] [Copy] […]
                                  [Copy link]
                                  [Delete]
