Description

When you close an issue with a commit, it would be nice to have the full commit message within the issue. The commit message could contain additional and relevant information about the cause of the issue.

Currently the text added to the issue is:

"Applied in changeset r146."

I would like that to change to:

"Applied in changeset r146: Fixed bug when site is purple and sky green. Please note that this is only for new projects."

So would "Fixed bug when site is purple and sky green. Please note that this is only for new projects." be the commit message?
