Description

I think this is a bug but I'd like to get some feedback first.

The "Files" module is using the label_attachment_plural for it's caption. This translation is also used in other places of Redmine like the file uploader. This means if I rename the module content to "Releases" for the module, it also renames the file uploader content which doesn't make sense to me.

Is this the correct behavior? Should the menu item use a different string like label_file_plural?
