Done in r919.

Anonymous users can now be allowed to create, edit, comment issues, comment news and post messages in the forums.

These permissions need to be explicitly given to the Anonymous role (Admin -> Roles & Permissions -> Anonymous).

After updating I don't see any changes done to the permission grid even though I restarted everything just to make sure./

Any tips?

No checkbox on the 'add issues' line for the anonymous role ?

No idea about this problem if you have properly restarted the application. Just to make sure, could you post the line 32 of lib/redmine.rb ?

map.permission :add_issues, {:projects => :add_issue}

Permission grid is now updated. Happened when I commit rev 921. I think it might be related to some cache trouble with fcgid and/or apache since using the Redmick server it works.

Sorry for the trouble.
