Description

Like redmine already has a page with http://redmine.url/issues

Make Activity available at http://redmine.url/activity and last revisions from repositories at http://redmine.url/repositories

Thanks, keep up the GREAT work.

And timelog
http://redmine.url/timelog/

(we need to track our emloyees per day/week/month across all projects, more here #9645)

I would also like to see the standard Activity and Roadmap page have a global version. So our manager can go to the Activity page and see activity from all projects and see all the current roadmaps on a single page.

#3 - 2008-03-11 23:25 - Jean-Philippe Lang

- Status changed from New to Closed

- Resolution set to Fixed

Overall activity added in r1227.
With this same view, you can view the latest revisions from all of your repositories.

Hi,
I think this relates to all activities pages:
The current month of the page is not displayed nowhere on the page when there's no activity for it.
I have to look at the status bar info to see the url of the Next and Previous links for determining which month I am on. It's a little confusing.

Regards,
Nikolay
