Description

when you look at a revision page @ /projects/projectname/repository/revisions/would it be possible to link the folder structure in the files section through to the relevant folder in the repository (most likely in the same revision)

as for one of my projects, we would like to see all the other files in that folder and it would be easier to find if that linked straight through

I'm not sure I understand your problem. If I'm at http://www.redmine.org/projects/redmine/repository and click on trunk, I get to http://www.redmine.org/projects/redmine/repository/show/trunk, which contains a list of the files in the directory.

#2 - 2010-03-24 11:54 - diafza diafza

- Assignee set to Felix Schäfer for example im referring to this page [[http://www.redmine.org/projects/redmine/repository/revisions/3609]] to link through to trunk, config and locales, in the files section showing the differences

#3 - 2010-03-24 12:11 - Felix Schäfer

- Subject changed from browse repository from revision page to Linkify folder names on revision view

- Category set to UI

- Assignee deleted (Felix Schäfer)

- Target version set to 0.9.4

This shouldn't be too hard, though I haven't had a chance to look at the code and I won't be able to in the next few days. I'l let JPLang or Eric Davis take care of that.

I tested the patch with trunk+git and 0.9.3+subversion.
And it worked fine for both situation.
What SCM do you use?
