Description
It would be nice if an issues' start date and/or due dates could simply be tied to a product version/milestone, instead of (or at least, in addition to) a fixed date. This way, the milestones' dates can be moved around and all the issues start/due information tracks accordingly.

Eric Davis's [[Plugin_List#Issue-Due-Date-plugin|Issue Due Date Plugin]] might be just the thing.

+1

It makes no sense to have individual Due dates for Issues, when they are assigned to a Version.

The "Issue Due Data" plugin does what I was looking for. Please include this Plugin permanently in Redmine as it is good feature for everyone.
