

Redmine - Feature #5523

Multi language custom field

Description The "Custom fields" Name field can only be filled with one name and thus in one language. It would be nice to be able to specify multiple name values for different languages. So that the correct language value will be used based on the user profile

I agree. A must have.

Redmine deserves to be completely multilanguage

Agreed.

Please make this more important. There are many tickets out there that aim at the same problem all over Redmine, yet nothing seems to be considered. Why? This would enrich this great piece of software another great deal!
