IIRC the mysql gem doesn't support MySQL 5.1 yet.

Can you confirm this is still an issue, or even possibly update first?

#3 - 2010-07-12 01:27 - Daniel Scott

I'm currently running revision 3840

Revision: 3840
Node Kind: directory
Schedule: normal
Last Changed Author: edavis10
Last Changed Rev: 3838
Last Changed Date: 2010-07-07 23:54:53 -0400 (Wed, 07 Jul 2010)

The problem still exists.

You don't happen to be looking for the by-default-hidden issue description? See here for details: RedmineIssues.

#5 - 2010-07-12 15:28 - Daniel Scott

From your link, I see:

Editing an existing issue's Subject or Description

which does allow me to edit and save the issue's description.

I'm talking about the other way of editing issues:

Right click on an issue and choose "Edit". The notes field is blank and doesn't accept any entered text.

#6 - 2010-07-12 15:31 - Felix Schäfer

You get exactly the same form either way. Have a look at the top of the edit form if you have the "More" link next to "Change properties", that's the only way to get to the text field for the description.
