

Redmine - Feature #5664

Copying documents too when copying a project

2010-06-10 09:34 - Pedro Gutierrez

Status:	Closed	Start date:	2010-06-10
Priority:	Normal	Due date:
Assignee:		% Done:	0%
Category:	Documents	Estimated time:	0.00 hour
Target version:
Resolution:	Duplicate
Description
Currently, when you copy a project there is no possibility to copy the documents it contains (either all or a selection of them). Concretely we are interested in creating a project template that includes not only wiki pages and issues but also certain basic documents such as for example: <ul style="list-style-type: none">- An Openproj template we use for planning before the projects formally start- An excel sheet we use for projects that need additional monitoring- Document templates for lifecycle specific internal deliverables

The patch will be kept up to date in this feature branch:

https://github.com/eemplare/redmine/tree/feature_5664

This patch is against redmine/trunk.

#7 - 2016-07-04 03:58 - Hugues C.

Isn't this a bug ? The expected behavior for the average user : copying a project means copying everything, not everything except documents.

#8 - 2017-03-24 18:58 - Kamil .

Bug which is already 7 years old?!
