Description

Archived projects are projects which you don't intend to interact with.

If you're not going to interact with them, there's no reason for them to be in the "Latest Projects" list.

I'm unable to reproduce this bug you are describing.
Could you submit the output of ruby script/about for your application and the revision of redmine ?

When a project has been archived, it is removed from the "Latest Projects" list.

In redmine_trunk (rev 3771).

About your application's environment

- Tracker changed from Feature to Defect

I just had a quick look at the code, and this shouldn't happen. Could you please provide steps to reproduce?

#3 - 2010-06-21 18:11 - Ikawe Saeem

- Status changed from New to Resolved

You're right, this isn't an issue.

Archived projects are not shown in the latest projects list. I don't know how I convinced myself otherwise. Sorry to waste your time.
