Description

I came across the following error whenever someone would create an issue with me as a watcher:

- translation missing: en, field_watcher_users is invalid

It did not do the same for anyone else. And, I could be added as a watcher to an issue later.

I figured out the problem, and hopefully this will be a helpful hint if someone comes across this rare error. It turns out that my email address was in use by both my account and the "Administrator". So, I changed one of the email addresses and it started working correctly.

The current release does not allow this to even happen, but I assume I set this up in a prior release, or by manually editing the database. In either case, most people shouldn't come across the issue and I don't know if this is something worth looking into fixing.

Thank you for pointing this out, we agree we should fix it. It has already been reported in #5373. go there if you want to complete the description. I close this one as a duplicate.
