Description
I'm using redmine 1.0.2 and experiencing a very annoying defect: every time I create a new issue, the start date is filled with the current date even if i leave this field blank.
I know #2269 is not implemented yet, but redmine should respect the blank value when I erase the default suggested value.

Oh, this bug happens even here, I deleted the date when created this issue and it's filled now. :P

I can confirm this issue on trunk at r4215. It seems introduced during the IssuesController-refactoring in r3688 followed by r3689.

I was able to fix the issue by applying the following patch:

```

Thanks for the patch, but I decided to apply the #2277 instead. I fixes the problem and makes what my company want.
