Redmine - Feature #6976
Autocalculate the issue done ratio only for certain issue statuses

2010-11-25 11:32 - Pedro Calvo

Status:	Closed		Start date:	2010-11-25

Category:			Estimated time:	0.00 hour
Target version:
Resolution:	Duplicate

Description

Though we need to use the % done field in Redmine, there is no reason not to have it work automatically for certain statuses. For example a "New" issue could be set automatically to 0% and a "Resolved" issue could be set to 100% done. The user could always change pertentages if needed...

Moreover, that would be an excellent way of avoiding 0%-closed issues.
