Yes please!
Would prefer user configurable, on a per user/per project basis AND configurable system wide defaults.

thank you for logging it Ivan,
Mark

it will nice to create his own activities feeds by selecting projects and options you want to see in this activities feed...

Ex : I am in charge of several specific projects so I would like to build an activities feed with only these project... or I could create an activities feed with only customer reports from several projects...

it was the idea behind #9542
