There is no "Affected version" field in Redmine core, please post your question in Help or Plugins forum.

Hi - actually the "Affected version" is a custom field of type version.

The problem is that in a sub-project the custom field of type version does not show the inherited versions. In the versions tab of a sub-project you can see all inherited versions, but the drop down list of the custom field is not populated with those values.

Please see the attached screenshots.
