Description
The "New Ticket" page of this redmine has a note about how to submit bugs. I suggest to add to the text box as well to the SubmittingBugs wiki page that the online demo might be a perfect place to (try to) reproduce a bug. If all works there, it might be a configuration issue on the user's installation or it might be already fixed, an then posting a question in the forum might be more appropriate than filing a bug. (This happened to me and I am probably not the first ...)
